In next part enter serial number and product key which you could see in IT Control Panel where you downloaded Statistica. All fields must be completed in this form. Otherwise, the installer will not allow you to install the program. Then go "Install"

The next step in the installation of STATISTICA is registration. All fields must be completed in this form. Otherwise, the installer will not allow you to install the program.

NOTE: The e-mail address that must be entered in this form must necessarily be a university address. Otherwise, the installation will not be completed. A valid university e-mail address ends with @kozminski.edu.pl

Program codes are valid until September of a given year. At the beginning of September, we provide codes that extend the license validity period. They should be used by mid-October. After this period, the codes will not work and you will have to reinstall the new version of the program.

If you encounter any problems, make sure that during installation:

- You are connected to internet
- All entered codes are typed with uppercase letters
- The e-mail address entered in the registration form is the university address. A valid email address looks like this:

*Id_number@*kozminski.edu.pl

If all of the above conditions are met and the program still does not want to install, please contact the IT Department.
